Free Golfing Sunday, May 9

A break from the weatherman will make the Vulcan Golf & Country Club a busier-than-usual place this coming Sunday, May 9, for it will be the club's annual "open house" for golfing, with everyone invited to use the course free of charge.

The offer is particularly aimed at those who would like to try their hand at golfing before deciding whether or not to join the club and free instruction will be available for all novices.

Rain, wind or shine the clubhouse will be open for the annual Mother's Day breakfast, served from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. by male members of the club at a nominal charge. Members and guests, wives and children, will be welcome.

Ownership Change Vulcan Hardware

Announcement is made in this issue of the Advocate of the sale of the Vulcan Hardware to Al Dakin, formerly of Calgary. Owned and operated by Mitchell & Mitchell Stores Ltd. for the past two years, the hardware was before that known as the Vulcan Supply Co., owned by G. C. and A. H. Collier.

Mr. Dakin "grew up" in the hardware business in Saskatchewan, where his father owned a hardware store, and for the past 10 years has been a wholesale buyer with the J. H. Ashdown Hardware Co. in Calgary.

A member of the United Church, Mr. Dakin is also a golfer, hunter and curler. He is now looking for a suitable home and will move his family—wife, two daughters aged 17 and 13 and son aged 10—to Vulcan at the end of the school year.

ERNE PATTERSON

Mayor of Claresholm and Social Credit candidate in two previous federal elections, Ernie Patterson was nominated by acclamation as Social Credit candidate to contest the Macleod riding in the next federal election. The seat is now held by Progressive Conservative Dr. L. E. Kindt of Nanton.

More than 100 delegates were present at the meeting held in Claresholm April 24. Main speaker was H. A. (Bud) Olson, MP for Medicine Hat and MLA's Ray Speaker of Little Bow and E. P. Benoit, Okotoks-High River, were also present.

Vulcan District 4-H Clubs Support Safety Campaign

In an effort to make the farm population more aware of the dangers connected with tractor operation, particularly in day and night travelling along roads and highways, the Vulcan district 4-H clubs are co-operating with provincial authorities in the sale of safety emblems and flags. These are attached to the rear of moving farm equipment.

The triangular metal emblem shown in the front row of 4-H girls above has the centre portion fluorescent for daytime visibility and a two-inch reflective border for night use. The emblem is visible day and night up to 1,000 feet. A fluorescent flag mounted on a 10 foot bamboo pole is available which gives warning to approaching motorists in hilly country.

Back row, Tommy Irwin, Wayne Lucas, Ralph Seeley, Floyd Williams and Clarence Roth, local district agriculturist.

Complete slow moving vehicles safety packages sell for $8.80.

Seven Family Pets Poisoned

At least seven dogs in Vulcan were poisoned over the weekend, five fatally, and a full investigation is being carried out by town police, assisted by the RCMP, in an effort to trace the person responsible.

The method of poisoning was to scatter meaty bones, thought to contain strychnine, in an area fairly well confined to the south-west portion of town. One big fear is that a small child may handle one of the poisoned bones and unwittingly transfer some of the poison to its mouth. Several of the bones have been found in the yard of the elementary school as the result of a police-organized campaign to have boys scour that part of town and bring to the police office any bones or meat found laying around. Identification of the poison used is expected this week from Edmonton.

Dogs poisoned include those owned by the Skeez Christensen, Harry Stoddard, Norm Bucholtz, Bert Daniels, Lloyd Graham and Andy Broere families.

Crop Report Sees Decrease In Wheat Acreage

Although the weather remains somewhat on the cool side, with brief snow flurries over the weekend, most farmers are now working on the land and seeding will soon be in full swing.

The Alberta Wheat Pool crop report for this district, dated April 30, estimates surface moisture (top six inches) at 85% in both summerfallow and stubble fields and sub-soil moisture at 65% in summerfallow and at 30% in stubble. Moisture conditions this spring are approximately twice as good as one year ago.

Estimates on acreage to be sown to various varieties of grain this spring show that 12% less land is expected to be seeded to wheat, with a corresponding increase in acreage sown to barley.

Correction In Youth Travel Students List

A typographical error in last week's report of 24 students being chosen for the Youth Travel program this summer resulted in a mixup of names of the students who will represent the Carmangay and Champion communities.

The correct listing of the two Carmangay and three Champion students whose names were drawn follows:

Carmangay—Terry Brownell, age 15, grade 9; Christine Hubka, age 17, grade 11.

Champion—Michael Holm, age 15, grade 9; Bernard M. Hemmel, age 15, grade 9; Marie Caldwell, age 16, grade 10.

Reports Given At U.C.W. Meeting

The regular meeting of the UCW was held on April 14, with Mrs. Wm. Shields presiding in the absence of Mrs. Montgomery. The minutes and financial report were given by Mrs. M. Gottenberg. It was reported that 374 pounds of clothing for Korea were received by the Welfare Industries of the First United Church in Vancouver. Also baby knitted clothes were received by the McDougall Indian Mission in Morley.

The Easter devotion was very capably presented by Mrs. Mannen and Lynetta Parslow and also featured a film, Gethsemane. Mrs. Dorner, accompanied by Mrs. E. Andrews on the piano played two selections on the violin which were very much enjoyed by everyone.

Group 4 is in charge of decorating the church for Mother's Day and will be responsible for the program at the meeting to be held on May 12.

Lunch was served by Group 2. All members are urged to attend the May meeting.

The 29-member junior band who had heard them during their first few weeks of training at a short program two years ago in the Vulcan Lodge Hall and again briefly at last year's senior concert, were surprised by the progress shown.

Under the baton of conductor Arthur Dee the band moved through a program of marches, two overtures, waltzes and novelty numbers which demonstrated surprisingly good tone, especially from the clarinet, sax and trombone sections and created an ensemble sound quite heard from the individual playing apart by parents during home practice.

Also much enjoyed were solos and trios performed by members of the band. A $10 prize to the best performer went to a trio of boys from the trumpet section, Bobby Priebe, Ken Hartung and Greg Daniels who played Trumpets in Three-quarter Time. Others featured during the program were Fred De Jong with an alto horn solo Drink To Me Only With Thine Eyes; Judy Haga, clarinet solo, Old Man River; a clarinet and sax trio of Sally and Susie Giles and Marta Gottenberg playing two selections. In A Spanish Town and Peggy O'Neil.

Joe Denbigh of the drum section came forward to sing Zip-A-Dee-Do-Do and an impersonation of Louis Armstrong while perhaps the most polished soloist of the evening was Laurie McLennan who plays bells in the band and on this occasion played a piano solo entitled Scherzo.

To encourage the junior players in their musical training two scholarships to the week-long summer band camp are offered each year and 1965 winners were announced at the conclusion of the program.

The scholarship put up by the Vulcan County Band Association was won by Joe Denbigh while Laurie Steiner won the scholarship offered by business man Fred De Jong of Vulcan Bakery. These scholarships are worth $35 which covers the cost of band camp. With the Bakery scholarship goes an attractive trophy.

Timbers Shipped To Far North

Business benefits from oil sands development at Fort McMurray are reaching down into our own area. A carload of pressure treated timbers destined for Fort McMurray, Alta., was loaded at Cayley two weeks ago by Peerless Wood Preservers Ltd. for shipment to the railroad at Waterways.

The timbers, which were pressure treated at the Cayley plant, will be used in the assembling of portable dwellings for the fast developing northern point.

A similar type of material was treated last year for use at a United States Air Force base in Montana.

The little girl was telling her teacher about her baby teeth coming out. She had already lost three and one was loose. She said, "Pretty soon I'll be running on the rim."

It's almost a shame to revive sleeping memories but this year's Vulcan Lionettes Charter Night celebration was too far out in its program to let go by unobserved. The serial was unnamed but began with Hawaiian dolls weaving all over the floor to soft guitar strumming. Suddenly Mammy Yokum, or some such similar brute came on

Receive Personal Card From Lady Baden-Powell

Members of the 1st Champion Girl Guide Company, of which Mrs. Racille Ellis is leader, are thrilled with a card received by them directly from the Lady Olave Baden-Powell, widow of Lord Baden-Powell, founder of the Scout-Guide movement.

On Feb. 22, which is, Thinking Day, for the Guides and, Founder's Day, for the Scouts, the Guides decided they would send a card of good wishes to Lady Baden-Powell, who is now over 80 years old and still serves as World Chief Guide. The Guides did not expect an acknowledgement of their card so were most pleased to recently receive back Lady Baden-Powell's personal greeting card, partly in her own hand-writing, with the message: "I did so appreciate all your kind thoughts for me on Thinking Day."

Lady Baden-Powell lives at Hampton Court Palace, East Molesey, Surrey, England.

At Versluys Farm

Wind-Whipped Fire Brings $15,000 Loss In Feed, Barn

Damaged estimated at about $15,000 was caused last Friday at the farm of C. J. and D. H. Versluys in the Champion district when a wind-whipped fire razed a barn and seven granaries.

Flax straw, tangled in a rod weeder, was being burned out when a gust of wind carried flames to some loose straw and from there to the barns and granaries.

Fire trucks and crews from Champion and Vulcan responded quickly to calls for help and neighbors were soon on the scene to lend aid in moving seed grain to safety, bulldozing debris out of the path of the fire and taking other measures to save the two farm houses and other buildings. A pipeline to a nearby slough and the use of a water truck helped contain the fire to the barn, cattle shed and granaries. Neighbors stayed to stand watch at night over the smoldering debris.

The two-year-old barn destroyed contained about 75 tons of feed, all lost to the flames, and two of the granaries destroyed were full of barley. A cattle shed and corral fence were also razed. Equipment and livestock were saved.

Losses were partially covered by insurance.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Versluys were away at the time of the fire which started about noon, but returned home Friday night.

Students' Union Institutes Two Gr. 12 Scholarships

(By Maxine Atkins)

Another first for County Central High School was initiated at the April 14. Students' Union meeting when the students almost unanimously adopted a motion for the establishment of two annual scholarships to be presented to the boy and girl in grade 12 who attains the highest average in any six grade 12 subjects. This action marked yet another step of progress in student concern regarding academic achievement.

An atmosphere of enthusiasm and determination enveloped the gymnasium as the proposal was brought forward by President Doug Munton. Little discussion was necessary; decision had already been made. A calling of hands confirmed previous opinion that there would be no barriers arising to prevent passage of the motion. As the count was taken, each individual directed his thoughts towards a new field of concentration. Each pondered the benefits of the new formulation and weighed the chances of his obtaining the distinguishing award.

There can be no question regarding student attitude toward measures intended to serve as a kind of catalyst in a campaign for an increase in individual recognition and attainment. With such an overwhelming acceptance and agreement, a promise of new degrees of accomplishment can be discerned in the actions of the students.

The guest speaker, Glen Gorbous, Vulcan, (former professional baseball player with the Cincinnati Reds) delighted the audience with an account of his experiences. The evening was brought to a close with the film P.T. 109—the story of the war experiences of John F. Kennedy.

WINTER WHEAT SURVIVAL

The decision to plough-down or leave an uneven stand of Winter Wheat may be facing some farmers at this time.

It seems that some fields may have been seeded too late last fall in relation to the growing conditions that occurred after seeding. Also it would seem that the winter experienced this past March may have been detrimental to the survival of Winter Wheat in this area.

Some fields appear to be rather spotty with a low number of plants surviving. Care should be taken to make a thorough inspection of Winter Wheat plants. Farmers should consider the following facts regarding Winter Wheat culture.

1) Failure of Winter Wheat to emerge in the fall does not exclude the possibility of producing a satisfactory crop for the following year, provided seeding was done during the recommended period.

2) Winter Wheat will generally produce grain heads if the seed was able to begin growth even within the seed embryo, prior to the onset of cold winter or spring weather.

3) Failure of existing top growth to resume growth or green-up in the spring is not always a sign of complete winter killing of the plant. New growth may come from the crown of the plant.

4) Complete and accurate appraisals of winter killing and plant stands are difficult to make in early spring. Mid-spring appraisals are usually more accurate.

5) Unless stands of Winter Wheat are extremely poor and patchy, (i.e., average less than 4 to 5 plants per square foot), it is usually inadvisable to plough-down or otherwise destroy the crop in preparation for re-seeding to spring grain.

A gentle Quaker, hearing a strange noise in his house one night, got up and discovered a burglar busily at work. So he went and got his gun, then came back and stood quietly in the doorway. "Friend," he said, "I would do thee no harm for the world, but thee standest where I am about to shoot."

CLERICS' CORNER

This week's contributor: M. R. Heebner
Evangelical United Brethren Church

I just finished reading Pierre Berton's book, "The Comfortable Pew." It might be a good idea for everyone to read this book. It is very revealing as to what one who considers himself a non-Christian thinks of the Church. To a degree there are some valid criticisms of the church in his book.

However, I can think of no one who is less qualified to write such a book. It would be just as sensible for me, certainly unqualified, to write a valid criticism of The National Space Agency or some such similar group. For me to do such a thing would require not only detailed research, but an active participation in every phase of its operation. Certainly though at one time involved to a degree in the church, Berton knows nothing of what gives the church its authority!

The church is to lead the way in every field — moral issues, civil rights, religious reform, ecumenicity, etc., but this is where many like Berton simply do not have a clue. Granted, the church is to lead the way in all these areas but that does not mean it is to sanction popular opinion. "The Comfortable Pew" speaks of a 'new morality' based on the latest popular trends. Instead of leading the way in moral reform, the church here must uphold the only source of moral authority the world has — the Bible.

Much reference is also made to the 'new age.' The suggestion is made that the church is archaic in its relation to the 'new age.' We do not need a 'new Gospel for a new age.' What we do need is a re-affirmation of the old, and only Gospel, which continues to be a new Gospel for our so-called 'new age.'

There is something about "The Comfortable Pew" and Pierre Berton's attitude that does not ring true. Very often the very thing we admire most is that which we attack the most viciously. I am reminded of Saul's attitude before his conversion. There are Scriptural allusions to the fact that Saul was so avid in his persecution of the Christians because, deep down inside, he admired and wanted to be like the Christians.

Upon Saul's encounter with Christ, God's voice said, "It is hard for thee to kick against the goad. Saul, in fighting the Christian you are in reality fighting me, and in fighting me you are fighting the universe, and in fighting the universe you are in reality fighting against yourself. You are only hurting yourself, Saul." Could this be true of Berton?

On the other hand, the church, and in particular the individual Christian, must make room for some real soul searching. Are we prepared for that? The individuals who make up Christ's Church are to be militant — not forsaking the old principles and adopting new, but conquering the new upon the basis of the old!

BIRTHDAY CLUB

The regular meeting of the Birthday Club was held April 8, at the home of Mrs. Anton Volesky. The opening song was, "Easter Parade," and 11 members answered roll call with their favorite verse from the Bible. Two visitors were also present.

After the minutes had been read a discussion on the rugs that had been made followed. Mrs. E. Hamm displayed a few of the patterns but no decision was made as to when the club would finish this project. Correspondence consisted of a thank-you note and receipt from donations that had been made.

A new member, Mrs. Velma Booth, was welcomed into the club. She also volunteered to mend the song books which certainly needed attention. The business meeting closed by singing, "Beautiful Dreamer."

The nickel draw was won by Mrs. West and Mrs. Booth won the contest. A lovely lunch, served by the hostess and her assistants closed a pleasant afternoon.

Vulcan Concrete Ltd. Prepares For Busy Season

With the arrival of spring to this area comes the resurgence of new construction, home improvements, landscaping and other seasonal jobs allied to the building industry. A local firm organized last fall which handles general types of construction, cement work, dirt moving and gravel hauling is that of Vulcan Concrete Ltd. It is a partnership of Merle Smith and Harvey Simmons, both well known in local building circles and they have united their separate trades into this company.

The cement plant above with Merle Smith in the foreground, has been set up along the elevator road but negotiations are now under way to move to a new location on the County Abattoir road. Motors and machinery takes most of the wheelbarrow and shovel work out of the new cement operation. A front-end loader dumps gravel and sand onto a conveyor belt which runs the mixture into the transit truck along with the cement which comes from a separate hopper and conveyor.

Water is added and the cement is mixed enroute to the pour location, which can be anywhere in the county. The transit-mix has a capacity of about four yards and an average sized house foundation or basement can be easily poured in one day.

For excavating and dirt moving, etc., there is a back-hoe with a front-end loader and a caterpillar with similar attachment and a truck for hauling.

Employed with the company is Bill Perrault.

Above is shown the end of the line for one batch of cement which is going into a basement pour. Power equipment for tamping and trowelling, in use by Vulcan Concrete Ltd., takes much of the heavy labor out of the operation.

It Could Have Been A Child

Dog poisoners are notoriously hard to trace and convict, the nature of their actions being such that the poison used is not usually acquired through traceable channels. The episode in Vulcan this past weekend, when several family pets were poisoned, is a frustrating experience for dog-owners and police.

Possession of one or another types of poison is not uncommon in an area where several types of farm pests are often controlled through the use of poison bait and a dog-poisoner would likely have to be caught with the evidence in order to obtain a conviction. Dog-poisoning is a crime that seems to recur in almost every town, on the average of once about every 10 years, and we have yet to read of the person responsible being caught and convicted.

It's an unfortunate situation and we sympathize with the children and families whose pets have met a painful death through the actions of a person whose mind is obviously somewhat warped. But it could easily be a tragic situation if a small child had picked up one of the poisoned bones and, through its fingers, transferred some of the poison to its mouth. This could have happened in Vulcan last weekend and some person would, unwittingly maybe, have caused a child to die. This should give cause for thought even to a person as low on the scale as a dog-poisoner.

Report From Parliament Hill

Lawrence E. Kindt M.P.

SENATE REFORM—The question of Senate Reform is again before Parliament this week, and in essence the Government's proposal is that Senators who are to be appointed in the future must retire (with a pension) at the age of 75. This would certainly seem to be a step in the right direction, although perhaps not a very large step.

The debate on this legislation has been, in some ways, one of the most interesting I have heard for a long time, since a great many M.P.'s on all sides of the House made a great many very thoughtful and constructive suggestions, e.g., it was pointed out that perhaps some members of the Senate should be appointed by the Provincial Governments, thus enabling regional political Parties (Social Credit) to have some representation in that body. Another outstanding suggestion was that the Government should appoint more Cabinet Ministers from the Senate. The effect of this suggestion would be to gain some of the advantages that the American Cabinet System has over the present Canadian system. In other words, the Government in power could appoint one or two very outstanding Canadians to the Senate and then take them into the Cabinet. The present Cabinet, is of course, almost completely chosen from elected M.P.'s on the Government side of the House, and since each Province must be represented in the Cabinet, the present choice of Cabinet Ministers is extremely limited. In this regard a precedent was set by the former Prime Minister (Mr. Diefenbaker) when he appointed Wallace McCutcheon to the Senate and then made him Minister of Trade and Commerce; as everyone knows, Mr. McCutcheon is probably one of the two or three ablest businessmen in Canada. The Prime Minister seemed interested in this suggestion, and it is to be hoped that he will follow it up.

Anglican Guild Plans Activities

Mrs. Neal Dumka was hostess to the Anglican Ladies Guild, Wednesday night. There were 11 members present with Mrs. Arthur Fitzpatrick presiding.

Plans were completed to welcome the Rev. and Mrs. Chitomo, missionaries from Africa, who will visit the parish May 10-12. Open House will be held in the church basement, May 11, after a service of evensong. Anyone wishing to meet these fine Christian people of Africa are invited to attend. The African priest will speak to a group of students at CCHS on May 12.

The Rt. Rev. George Calvert, Bishop of Calgary, will be in St. Aldhelm's on May 9, at 11:30 a.m. for the Order of Confirmation. Those young people receiving the Laying-On-Of-Hands will be Carol Mumby, Jane Franks, Barbara Schuler, Anne Lewis, Richard Apperley and Roy Dennuse. A noon luncheon will be served immediately after the service for the Lord Bishop, candidates and congregation. The candidates will receive their first Holy Communion May 16, and will be presented with their prayer books.

Mrs. Stu Joiner was elected to form a welcoming committee to assist new Anglican families to become acquainted with the various groups of the church.

The Rev. Victor Cowell was unable to attend and the ladies recited the Guild Prayer to close the meeting. The next meeting will be held May 26, in the church hall with Mrs. Laycock and Mrs. Fitzpatrick as co-hostesses.

4-H

Club Notes

Lomond 4-H Club—

On April 19, the Lomond 4-H Club held its annual calf tour. Lunch was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stan Marks. The main section of the meeting which was held following the tour concerned the Slow Moving Signs.

On Saturday, April 24, many of the members attended the Judging competition at the Bill Lucas farm. The May meeting of the Lomond 4-H Club was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. Bolduc. It was called to order by President Sheila Lucas. Marie lead in repeating the pledge. Mr. Roth told the members how the record book was to be filled out for the end of the year. It was also decided to canvass the district to help sell the Slow Moving Vehicle signs.

After the adjournment of the meeting lunch was served by Glenda, Jackie, and Marie.

Mossleigh 4-H Clothing Club—

A work meeting of the Mossleigh 4-H Clothing Club was held in the Mossleigh Hall. The first part of the meeting was spent working on the projects. The last part was spent planning the achievement Day. This will be held at 8:00 p.m., May 11, and everyone is welcome.

Vulcan district 4-H judging eliminations were held Saturday, April 24, at the Bill Lucas farm west of Vulcan and attended by about 120 4-H members and parents from Lomond, Berrywater, Arrowwood, Vulcan West-Ensign and Mossleigh clubs.

This year's competition was sponsored by Vulcan West-Ensign club whose leader is Bob Cutler. Four animals in each of three categories; market steers, bulls and cows with calves were judged by 4-H members as part of their 4-H beef program. John Hay of the Nanton district, well known in 4-H circles for his help in judging and who took part in judging at the 1964 Royal Winter Fair at Toronto, was present and spoke to the group on this subject.

First place in judging went to Marie Bolduc of Lomond with 189 points. Second was Randy Steiner of Berrywater club with 184 points while in third place was Merle Wyatt of Arrowwood with 181. It is interesting to note that a first year Pee Wee, Richard Rhodes scored 185 points in his non-competitive judging.

BAND NEWS

Monday evening senior band rehearsals at Hazel Cameron Elementary School are presently filled with marching practice as well as preparation for the annual concert on June 5th.

Bandmaster Arthur Dee claims the band's music is marvellous but the marching is murder so Sgt. George Christofferson of "A" Company, Calgary Highlanders has been called in for a couple of weeks to improve the footwork. Playing an instrument, reading music and marching in proper position is something of an art and requires much practice.

The only band engagement so far for May comes on the 24th when the band has been contracted to play in the Little Britches Rodeo parade at High River. The rodeo is becoming a major, heavily attended spring event and will mark the second such appearance there by the Vulcan band.

Congratulations go to the junior band on its successful concert last Saturday night and to Joe Denbigh and Laurie Steiner who won the band scholarship and Vulcan Bakery trophy and scholarship which entitles them to the week-long band camp this summer.

Those planning to attend the June 5th concert of the band can expect an even more varied program than that presented last year. The favorite march and concert works will be there plus novel features such as a musically descriptive story of Goldilocks and The Three Bears. The story is set to music and is easier heard than explained.

Tickets for this concert go on sale this weekend and will be available from both junior and senior band members.

LETTER TO EDITOR

Editor, The Advocate
Sir,

May I use your columns to draw the attention of parents and taxpayers to the completely impotent state into which we are lulled with regard to the education of our children.

How many worried, not just interested, parents are wondering what they can do about their children's educational problems?

How many have been to the school or the county office to enquire or protest and come away frustrated and defensive?

How many more have simply stayed at home and gnashed their teeth?

Their name is "legion."

Speaking as parents and taxpayers, we hold strong opinions as to what should be, as well as what should not be done in our schools. As individuals, our voices are carried away by the wind. Speaking as a body, our voices would be heard and considered.

Rev. Dormer has kindly made available the basement of the United Church at 8:00 p.m. on Saturday, May 15th, for the purpose of organizing a Home and School Association in Vulcan. Home and School regional organizers have been invited to be there. May we expect to see a good turn-out of parents and teachers?

Signed—
A Worried Parent.

Easter Bunnies

The Easter Bunnies are Busy all the year.
They paint the pretty eggs
Very bright and clear.

They hop around and listen,
To hear the children say,
I wish it was Easter
Every single day.

They always seem to know
Where you have hid your hats
They never make mistakes
And give you Easter cats.
They always give you bunnies
And candies that are sweet.
Every year I look for him,
He's really quite a treat.
